World's Most Dangerous Poison

City's "Operation Killer" Depletes Dump's Rat Population By Thousands

The City of Grayling's "Operation Killer" carried out this week by the Dobson Pest Control company of Bay City killed an estimated 7,000 to 10,000 of the rat population. The company, insured and bonded to handle what is termed as "the world's most deadly poison" is one of three in Michigan. They have a year's contract with the City for rat control at the dump and will return for a second baiting sometime in October. Four baitings a year are used mostly for the purpose of catching rats who were too young to venture out of their holes during the preceding poisonings.

Frederic Scout News

Friday night, Aug. 27th, the Boy Scouts went on a camping trip at Manistee Lake. Eleven boys went besides the Scoutmaster, Leo Post, and Maurice Alma, who assisted us. After we got our tents up, we went fishing and none of us caught anything. The next morning some of the boys got up at 4:30 and went fishing but only one got a fish. It was a 16 inch Walleye. Saturday night our Scoutmaster had a bass about 3 1/2 pounds up to the boat and then two canoes. We wish to thank the people who let us use these boats. Most of the boys had a lot of fun playing horseshoes. Some of the boys went in to church Sunday morning and came back to camp at 12:00 noon when we went in for a swim and later had our dinner. After dinner we took down our tents and closed up camp. Then we went in for another swim and came home.

We sure enjoy these camping trips.

Fowler - Feldhauser Duo Slight Favorites

At least 22 top canoe racing teams, and possibly one or two more, will be ready at 10 p. m. this Saturday evening to shove off in their craft with the finish line in Oscoda, 240 miles away, clearly in their mental view.

All but one team will be seeking to lift the State canoe racing championship crown from the heads of Bernard Fowler and Don Feldhauser, both of Grayling, who finished the race last year in the new record time of 17 hours and 27 minutes. The present champions rule as slight favorites to repeat their performance this year, the canoe racing experts say, in view of their sixth starting spot.

Start of the grueling grind is scheduled for 10 o'clock Saturday night, at the US-27 Highway bridge in Grayling. The first team over the finish line at Oscoda (any time after 5:00 p. m. next Sunday) will receive first prize of $1,000.

A total of $2,950 in cash prizes will be awarded, with $500 to the second team; $200 to the third place winners; and $100 for the fourth place winners. Fifth through eighth places will be $50, ninth and 10th $25 each. Medals will be awarded to each team which completes the course within five hours after the winners.

Fowler and Feldhauser finished the grueling grind in the terrific time of 17 hours and 27 minutes last year. In second place were Ralph Sawyer and Eugene Roy, and in third were Steve Kolonich and Larry Kindall. Sawyer's race with Harold McNeil this year, while Kolonich and Kindall are also entered. All three teams have competed in most of the canoe races held this summer in the state and in some Canadian events.

Formosa Next? . . .

The cease-fires in Korea and Indo-China were welcomed in the western world, even though they amounted to peace without victory. All the nations concerned were sick of the bloodshed.

The bloodshed, undoubtedly, was of much less concern to Red China, with her virtually inexhaustible supply of manpower and the low value the Oriental mind puts on human life. But the cease-fires must have been very welcome there too, for other reasons. She gained a major objective in preventing the unification of Korea under what, by Oriental standards, would have been a democratic regime. And in Indo-China she defeated a major Occidental nation for the first time in her long and sanguinary history. The importance of this to the Red Chinese leaders, to whom "face" is everything, cannot be exaggerated. Geneva was the climax of their lives so far.

There is still another reason, and an ominous one. The cease-fires released Red China's energies for use elsewhere—if her leaders so desire.

There can be no small doubt where she will strike next, if she does strike. The target will be Formosa. Conquest of the island has been threatened by the Peiping radio. And the West has learned not to discount Red China's threats.

This is a matter of the utmost seriousness to the United States. Columnist Robert S. Allen recently wrote, "The United States is prepared to go to war to hold Formosa." Those are grim words, but the attitude in Washington seems to justify them.

Mr. Allen also wrote that Red China has already started a softening-up process which may be preliminary to an attempted Formosa invasion. He cited as an example the destruction by Red Chinese fighters of the unarmed British airliner. According to him, it has been definitely established that this was not an accident, but a deliberate act, and there were two reasons for it. First, it was designed to show Britain how precarious her position in the East is. Second, and most disturbing, the attack was made for the malevolent purpose of venting their hatred and fury at the United States by killing Ambassador William Donovan, who they believed was on the plane, en route to Thailand. Mr. Donovan, luckily, wasn't aboard, but that doesn't make Red China's plans and motives any less threatening.

Mr. Allen further reports that security reasons prevent disclosure of the steps that are being taken by this county to defend Formosa. Some precautions, however, are known. Heavily strengthened U. S. naval forces are now patrolling the China coast and war materials are being stockpiled on the island.

Just about everyone agrees that if Red China does strike, and if Formosa is to be saved, we will have to do most of the saving. The Nationalist Chinese forces on the island are fairly large in number, but they are ill-equipped and their average age is high for combat troops. They haven't the resources to make major strikes against the Chinese mainland, which would be necessary to the prosecution of the war.

So the situation stands, with all the question-marks that are involved. Before very long we should learn if Red China has decided to invade World War III.

Capone Golfers Fighting It Out. With the crack of the drivers and the rattle of irons the battle on the Grayling golf course raged fiercely Sunday afternoon. It was the first inter-gang war staged in the local golf underworld and after 18 holes an armistice was declared until next Sunday when the battle will continue among the surviving members.

At 2 o'clock the gang gathered at the dug-out and proceeded to pair up for action. No. 1 foursome consisted of "Dug-out Dago" Laurant, "Spoon Spike" McNeven, "Lucky T" Hanson and "Blonde Doc" Green. At the finish of the first 9 holes, "Spoon Spike" was a loser and had to caddy for "Dug-out Dago" for the second nine holes and "Blonde Doc" did the bag-toting for "Lucky T".

No. 2 foursome was made up of "Law and Order" Ingley, "Tiny Doc" Keyport, "Big Bill" Powell and "One Gun Aber" Joseph. This was a tough match especially between "Tiny" and "Law and Order". It was neck to neck to the 7th hole, when "Tiny" put "Law and Order" completely out. "One Gun Aber" wiped "Big Bill" out completely under heavy fire. "One Gun Aber" said "Big Bill" deserved it as he felt sure "Bill" was a stool pigeon.

To the No. 3 foursome lineup there were "Kingfish" Tetu, "Rexall Joe" McNamara, "Nervy Jo" Culligan and "Blackjack Johnny" Johnson. In this match "Rexall Joe" and "Blackjack Johnny" put "Nervy Jo" and "Kingfish" in the dirt right. "Nervy Jo" started the fight with a lot of punch but his nerves cracked on No. 4 and he was a picture of the depression personified at the finish. However, he makes a good caddy and "Blackjack Johnny" recommends him very highly. This cannot be said of the "Kingfish" as "Rexall Joe" says he's about as rotten as he has ever had the pleasure to boss. "Kingfish's" knees gave out on the 18th hole and he could not keep "Rexall Joe's" bag out of the dirt.

Next Sunday the semi-finals and finals will take place. Battle will be called at 2 p. m. sharp.

Christian Giving.
Leviticus for August 22: 1 Corinthians 16: 1-2ab; II Corinthians 8: 1-9. Golden Text: Acts 20: 35.

Christian giving is an indispensable part of Christian living. No man can be sincere in his Christian life if he is not willing to give unto God that which is due. Paul was concerned in raising a collection for the poor saints in Jerusalem and he was urgent in emphasizing the responsibility of converts toward the needs that were brought to their attention.

The apostle laid down a plan that anticipated by nearly two thousand years the every-member canvass and the weekly bringing of contributions to the church. Upon the first day of the week he wrote, Christians should lay aside the part of their earnings that should be consecrated unto God.

Paul cited the example of a generous giving by the Macedonian Christians, who had given above all that he expected of them, and more, beyond all that he thought was their ability to give. He also revealed the secret of their generous giving—they first gave their own selves unto God. When a man gives himself to God, there is nothing that he will withhold from God.

But Paul, in urging the Corinthians to give freely, also cited the greater example of the Lord Jesus who was rich but surrendered his kingly glory and became poor that men might be rich.

entertaining as their guests this week, Mrs. Monroe Porter of Flint and her son, Eugene.

Marius Hanson, son of Mrs. Hansine Hanson, will leave on Sept. 15th by motor for a two weeks trip to Niagara Falls going by way of Mackinaw and the Soo.

Genuine surprises are rare, but Mrs. Ernest Borchers had a most pleasant one when on Monday night she came home to find a number of her lady friends to help her celebrate her birthday anniversary. Mrs. Borchers and children are spending the week down the river at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George K. Stephan, and her sisters invited her to come in to the show and in doing so made an excuse to go to her home. Cards and a delicious pot luck lunch were enjoyed during the evening.

Mrs. Peter Robertson is entertaining the Danish Reading Club this afternoon. The affair is being held at the Kjolhede cottage at Lake Margrethe to honor Mrs. Kjolhede, who with the Reverend are to leave Grayling about the 1st of October.

A SAFE MEDICINE CHEST
By Science Features
One household safety hazard is too often found in the very spot where help is most needed—the family medicine cabinet. If it is cluttered, dirty and lacking in the proper medications, it often results in unnecessary pain and worry rather than comfort for the ailing.
To be on the safe side make sure that the medicine chest is clean and filled only with necessary articles, properly arranged for simple, quick use.
Start the clean-up by throwing away old, half-used prescription medicines, unless the doctor is consulted about its future effectiveness. Also get rid of that collection of bottles containing last year's cough syrup, burn lotion and iodine. These drugs and many others, outlive their usefulness by evaporating or crystallizing and can cause severe injury when taken.
See that all items are clearly labeled so the contents do not have to be tested on some unfortunate patient already in pain. Before using, read the label on the package—twice—and afterwards—make sure to put the top back tightly.
Children should be kept away from the medicine cabinet for they may try some pleasant-tasting remedy not meant for them. Poisonous preparations should be put in a separate container, out of reach,
and a safe disposal unit for razor blades and other waste matter should be available. These simple measures, along with the advice of your druggist, can produce a medicine cabinet that the whole family will appreciate.

"It Doesn't Matter What You Believe As Long As You Are Sincere" (OR DOES IT?)
That's what a plumbing salesman told me one day—and to many people have said the same thing that it is almost a proverb.
But sincerity is not enough. Miss Jones sincerely believed it was a dose of medicine she was taking from the bottle in the medicine cabinet. It turned out to be poison, and she died.
Sincerity is a fine thing—one of the noblest of virtues—but it didn't save Miss Jones. Nor will sincerity save your soul if you believe the wrong thing.
If you rest your faith in religious ceremonies, you are lost. If you think the goodly gates of heaven will swing open for you because you are a good moral man, or because of the good deeds you have done, you may be sincere as the day is long, but you will certainly be lost.
A person can be saved only by coming as a needy, helpless sinner to the Lord Jesus Christ and accepting His pardon—a pardon made possible because Christ died on the cross for the death we deserved to die. Christ alone can save us. "Neither is there salvation in any other," cried the apostle Peter, "for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved."
It does matter what you believe. Anchor your faith in the Lord Jesus Christ with all the sincerity of your heart, and He will give you peace with God and everlasting life.

If you do not have a fancy mop find that an ordinary dish mop does very well. It's easy to wash out after use and will then be clean each time you dust.

Ice cube trays can be filled easily without any spilling if you use a

M. M. Church Scene Of Wedding

Michelle Memorial Church was the scene of the wedding on Friday, August 27th, when Miss Marilyn Yvonne Vincent became the bride of Robert McClain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd D. McClain. Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Vincent. The Rev. R. C. Puffer and John Enselman officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of seventy-five guests. Mrs. June Taylor sang "Dearly Beloved" and "I'll Walk Beside You" and also played the traditional wedding marches. On either side of the altar were arrangements of pink and white gladioli.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white lace and nylon tulle. Her imported illusion veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a heart shaped bouquet of white gladioli, tied with white streamers and centered with a corsage of red carnations.

Miss Marlene Vincent was maid of honor for her sister. She wore yellow net and carried a heart shaped bouquet of pastel colored gladioli centered with yellow bebe mums.

James McClain was his brother's best man. Guests were seated by Ted Davenport and Duane Worden.

Mrs. Vincent chose gray for her daughter's wedding and wore navy accessories. Mrs. McClain wore black and white. Their identical corsages were of pink and white gladioli.

Two hundred guests attended the reception held at the church following the ceremony. Snapdragons and tapers in silver candelabra graced the coffee table.

Mrs. Grace Andrews and Mrs. Clare Madsen presided. Mrs. Glen Fenton and Mrs. Burton McWilliams served the lovely wedding cake which was guarded on either side by tapers in crystal candelabra. Mrs. Thomas Robertson, Mrs. Clarence Gross, Mrs. Carl E. Johnson, Miss Barbara Fenton and Miss Irene Horning assisted with the serving. The Misses Rita Nancy and Denise Sorenson took care of the gift table.

When the newlyweds left on their honeymoon to Northern Michigan and Canada Mrs. McClain wore a beige suit and brown accessories.

Both young people are graduates of Grayling High School. They are at home to their friends on Smith Street, Grayling.

Guests at the wedding were present from Lansing, Grand Rapids, Owosso, Jerry and Detroit.

Nickless-Niederer Wed In Gladwin

Mr. and Mrs. John Niederer are at home in Grayling following a honeymoon in upper Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Niederer were wed on Friday evening, August 26th, at the Waverly Methodist Church in Gladwin. The double ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Hollie Luter of Grayling at eight-thirty in the presence of 225 guests. Warren Emerick sang "Because," "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly." Miss Elmer Jungman was accompanist. Arrangements of red and white gladioli, garden flower, pine and candelabra decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride chose a white tulle length gown of satin, tulle and net for the wedding. It was fashioned with a lace over satin bodice with tiny collar and wrist point sleeves. The hooped skirt was designed with lace panels at the sides and bustle back. She carried red and white roses tied with streamers entwined with rose buds.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gerald McEvers of Grayling. She wore a pink organza gown, waist length, strapless with shoulder cape. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ellis Lavrak of Hale, Michigan, Miss Joyce Palmer and Miss Yvonne Klein. Miss Lynne Nickless was junior bridesmaid. All wore blue organza styled like the matron of honor.

Robert Niederer of Grayling was best man for his brother. Ellis Lavrak of Hale and Richard Niederer and Jerry McEvers of Grayling seated the guests.

The bride's mother wore a blue print and navy accessories. Mrs. Niederer chose lavender complemented with black accessories.

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony. Red roses, sweet peas, cosmos and candles were used for decorations.

When she left on her honeymoon, the bride wore a pastel pink French flannel suit.

The new Mrs. Niederer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Nickless of Gladwin, graduated from Gladwin High School and attended Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Niederer of Grayling, attended Grayling High School and Automobile Mechanic school.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE "AVALANCHE"

MAKE THAT DOG MIND!

About one hundred thousand dogs of various and assorted sizes and breeds will cavort around the fields and forests of Michigan come October 1st. That date marks the opening of the small game and upland bird seasons in this state, and seems to be the signal for the general loosing of this part of the canines under more or less control. Unfortunately the "less control" classification fits most of these dogs, and it's a shameful reflection upon their owners and "masters." This writer strongly believes that the pleasure of hunting is just about doubled by the presence of a good dog. We have also had many a day in the field ruined by the wild manners of an untrained dog—a display that usually accompanied by the ear-splitting blowing of whistles and shouts of the owner in an effort to keep his dog within the same county.

It is probably unfair to refer to the dog as "untrained." The owner is really the untrained member of the pair!

Obedience is Easy
ANY dog likes the praise that goes with his display of good manners. In the house or field. That's why it's easy to train them. And right now—a few weeks before the hunting season opens, is the time to put in some hours with your dog. Obviously the most important step is to teach him to come when called. The call may be vocal, or by whistle. Some trainers believe the easiest way to teach this is with a long, rather light rope attached to the collar. The dog is allowed to run, then as he hears the end of the rope the whistle is blown and a sharp pull on the tether transmits the general idea! The first time your dog returns is the right time to heap lots of praise on his worthy head—and once a dog finds how easy it is to please you in this manner he'll make it a habit!

Light Punishment Enough

Disobedience should never be followed by severe beatings. A dog is a sensitive creature. Fully able to discover your own moods by a change in the tone of your voice. Whippings are of little value, and may make the dog shy of you for a long, long time.

Start now to teach your dog to come when called. An hour a day will soon pay off handsomely, and you'll go into the hunting field proud of your dog. Furthermore, your dog will be proud of you! It makes a happy combination!
